Scouting parties of the soldiers may be seen riding all over the country to the camps in sight and ordering their removal and ordering traveling boomers to take the shortest way out of the country. All improvements on claims, such as dugouts and log foundations, are being destroyed. This is causing a great deal of chagrin to some of the boomers, who have expended a great deal of labor and some money on their improvements. It has been their hope that the president would declare the country open from the date of his proclamation and when the news was received here that the date was to be set thirty days ahead caused great disastisfaction. It is claimed that a concentration of a mass of people on the line will result in a grand rush; which will cause a great deal of trouble, and perhaps some serious difficulty.

Important Decision.

WATERLOOO, IA., March 20.-Judge Rud-H. Fosselman has recently been acting as local agent for the Anheuser-Bush Brewing association of St. Louis. He received beer in ear-loads and the company allowed the cars to stand on the side track until the beer was distributed to the customers. Injunctions were asked against both Fosselman and the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railroad. Fosselman set up the claim that he was simply agent for a foreign corporation and that the sales were all made in St. Louis. The judge held that the sales were made in Waverly and granted the injunctions. The railroad company pleaded that the decision of the United States supreme court in the Bowman case made it obligatory upon them to receive and deliver all goods offered them outside the state for transportation into lowa. The judge ruled, however, that by permitting the cars loaded with beer to remain upon their side tracks until the contents were distributed the railroad company was allowing the brewing company to use their property for warehouse purposes for goods which the railroad company knew to be contraband under the laws of lowa. This decision will affect a arge number of places in lowa.

What Americans Want OTTAWA, ONT., March 21.-The Budget debate was resumed by Mr. Cockburn, who delivered an ultra loval speech, which met most excellent fodder, he believes it to with applause from the government benches, with applause from the government benches, but was greeted with derisive cheers from the other side of the house. Mr. Cockburn is a firm believer in a national policy of pro-tection, and is opposed to schemes for unre-stricted reciprocity of commercial union. He instituted comparisons to show that the various provinces of Canada are enjoying greater prosperity than the various states of the union. He said the decline in land values in New York state from 1870 to 1880 was $27.000.000, while Ontario in the same Morton Monitor: The farmers of this county who were not fortunate enough to grow their own seed corn are pur chasing it from others, and insist that home grown seed is the kind to plant. America's alleged aristocracy, he said, lived only for boodle and he had nothing kind to say about the plutocracy. All the Americans wanted was to get the trade of Canada and give nothing in return. Bonusing Roads.
TORONTO, ONT., March 20.—There is great ejoicing among the members representing the new districts in the legislature at the decision arrived at in the government caucus, It was decided to bonus colonization railroads, especially those which would open up the northwest portion of the province. It is understood the following roads would be bonused on the basis of $3,000 per mile: Port Arthur to Sand Lake, in the Algoma district, $150,000; branch line connecting Manitoulin island with the Canadian Pacific, also in the Algoma district, $90,000; Parry Sound to Burk's Falls in Muskoka district, connecting with the Grand Trunk, $120,000; Brockville, Westport & St. Maire railroad section from Westport to Palmer's Rapids in Renfrow county, $150,000. It is believed the government will grant substantial aid to the Nipissing & James Bay railroad and announcement to this effect is expected before the session closes. ision arrived at in the government caucus.

A Precedent. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21 .- One of the natters considered at the cabinet meeting was the case of an Illinois postmaster whose removal was asked by one of the Illinois congressmen because of the postmaster's political activity. It was admitted by the congressman that the office was well managed, and the matter was called to the attention of the cabinet for the reason that the action taken in this case might constitute a precedent hereafter.

Postmaster General Wanamaker said that he did not feel at liberty lo talk about what took place at the cabinet meeting. There is no reason to believe, however, that the result of the meeting was averse to the wishes of the Illinois congressman, but it is not known whether or not any fixed line of action in cases of this kind was determined upon.

An Accident at Winfield. WINFIELD, KAN., March 21.-As Miss Effe Weaver, aged 16 was on her way to church weaver, aged 16 was on her way to church she undertook to walk across the platform of a caboose of a train standing on the crossing of the Southern Kansas track, and as she stepped off the train gave a start, throwing her under the wheels and dragging her a short distance. Her left leg was so crushed as to make amputation about half way between her knee and body necessary. The young lady is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.-Senat Stewart's special committee to investigate lands, will enter upon that duty August 1, meeting at St. Paul and proceeding first to Montana. ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 20.-It is reported here that a big strike among the coal miners at Gallup has been inaugurated. They have been getting 80 cents per ton, but a reduction of 10 cents was ordered by the superintendent. The miners then called a meeting and appointed committees to confer with the bosess. They were unsuccessful in having their grievances righted and they have struck. Gallup is the largest coal mining camp in the southwest, employing about 500 miners. Want no Twine Trust, Hiawaтна, Kax., March 21.-The farmers of Brown county have signified their intention to make war on the twine trust, which makes the self-binder an expensive labor saver. Three of the leading farmers have called a convention of their brethren for Saturday, March 31, and those who have ex-pressed themselves declare that they will not buy until the price is put away down. Rich Men of the Press. I knew Whitelaw Ried when, in his maturity, he lived on a small stipend as the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette. He is now owner of the New York Tribune, pro-prietor of its "Tall Tower" in City Hall Square, and a millionaire who dwells in a palace that belongs to himself.

I knew E. L. Godkin, a man of Irish birth, when he drew his pittance of $30 a week as a writer for the Times. is now the proprietory editor of the New York Evening Post, and enjoys an income from it higher than that of most of the lords in Ireland.

I first saw Charles A. Dana when he was a writer on the Tribune under Horase Greeley. He is now the dictator of the New York Sun, the owner of a lovely island on the Sound where he resides in the summer, the pro-prictor of a city mansion in which he lives like a prince, and had the happiness a few days ago of interviewing the Pope in the Vatican.

I knew Joseph Pulitzer ten or twelve years ago when he was getting but a limited reward for the manuscripts he sent to the Sun. He is now the owner of the New York World, a millionaire many times over, and the author of newspaper projects that are bewilder-ing in their range and magnitude. From the time he was a private soldier in the Union army till he became a writer for the press and up to this time his career has been lively.

I knew his younger brother, Albert Pulitzer, when he was a clever reporter for the Herald. He is now the owner of the New York Morning Journal, which has enriched him far beyond the hopes that grew in his brain ten years ago.

I know George Jones, who, however, did not boast of his manuscripts when he had no notion of the fortune that has enabled him to raise the grandest newspaper edifice in the world. In the New York Times he now possesses wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. Two years ago Robert P. Porter was writer who had no cone ption of what the fast revolving suns were to bring forth for him. He is now owner, and editor of the New York Press, a daily paper that bears the impress of a powerful hand and is surely at the beginning of a great career.

Mother—"Why, what's the matter?"

"Yesterday I read an article about how to keep a husband just as devoted as he was when a lover. It said you must keep your temper, attend conscientiously to the kitchen and pantry, see that his clothing is in good order, have plenty of sunlight in the house and in the heart, don't bother him about going to places of amusement when he is tired. This article is a carefully prepared Physician's scription, and has been in constant use nearly a central CAUTION. The only grounne Theompson's Water has upon the white wrapper of each both engraved portrait of the inventor, Da. Isaac Troon with a fac-simile of his signature; also a note of signed John I.
